WE ARE DWK LIFE SCIENCES

YOU KNOW US.

DWK Life Sciences is your global 1 source, end-to-end solution for quality life science research glass and plastic, meeting stringent regulatory, quality and operational requirements. With you as our primary focus, we leverage our manufacturing expertise and supply chain excellence to ensure you get the right product at the right time...always.

We are pioneers in high quality glass manufacturing dating back over 125 years. Today, you'll recognize the well-known and respected brands we offer: DURAN®, WHEATON® and KIMBLE®. This precision labware mix offers the quality choices you need to do your best research. And, as your lab partner, we are able to match your workflow needs, reduce complexity and bring down costs.

WORKFLOW: Sampling → Storage → Prep → Analysis → Commercialization

No matter where your work takes you, DWK is there.

Our extensive portfolio offers products critical for applications in pharmaceutical, biotechnology, academic and government ranging from prep and storage of reagents, liquid handling, chemistry, cell culture and chromatography. We support it all: small molecules, macro molecules and compound screening/stability.

Our key services, critical cleaning, packaging and lot number reserves, add value to our products. Experience the full suite of DWK Life Sciences services that support your workflow:

- Custom glass: analytical, process, OEM, storage, product development
- Surface treatments: barcoding, safety coatings, amberizing
- Glass & plastics manufacturing: molded glass, tube conversion, plastic molding
- On-demand technical and product support: phone, email, on-site seminars

Our custom developed solutions bring important advantages that add to your success.

DURAN®, WHEATON®, KIMBLE®.

Quality and accuracy through the full product life cycle.

DWK Life Sciences supports every phase of the process from lab research through discovery, validation, pilot, production, scale-up, early production and commercialization. All Class A certified glassware bears a serial number for identification and traceability, just the beginning of how we ensure quality and accuracy.

DWK offers a comprehensive portfolio with products certified for conformance, traceability and auditing. Speed, robustness, precision and accountability are important strengths. DWK Life Sciences instills these qualities throughout all research phases.

Stringent manufacturing control ensures quality across the total DWK product matrix. We meet your highest expectations as a result of our relentless attention to deliver outstanding value while maintaining a premium quality experience.
